Funding for 2019 Summer Youth Programs Now Available

Applications will be accepted until April 30. Approximately $140,000 is available for qualifying programs.

The Jersey City Division of Community Development is currently accepting applications from nonprofits, government agencies, and special neighborhood-based organizations providing programs that service youth ages 5–17 during the summer months from June 1, 2019, to August 31, 2019.

Approximately $140,000 is available for programs that offer recreation and/or academic enrichment that will have a measurable impact on Jersey City youth during the summer months.

The full Request for Proposal is available at <https://zoomgrants.com/gprop.asp?donorid=2180>. Applications will be accepted from Monday, April 1, 2019, through Tuesday, April 30, 2019. No proposals will be accepted after 5 p.m. on April 30.

Youth programs should include but are not limited to prevention, intervention and developmental programs across multiple domains, including academics, workforce preparation, leadership, engagement, and health and well-being. Examples of program type include:

Summer Youth Recreation — Programs that involve low-to-moderate income youth in summer recreational activities (e.g. camp, sports, arts, dance, and music) that will expose young people to experiences that expand beyond the horizons, including scholarships and creative approaches classifying activities or programs that support mentoring and successful transitions to adulthood. Recreation activities are for programs not currently funded by the City.

Youth Development Programs — Programs that support education, including Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, & Mathematics (STEAM) programs, employment and transitional support for youth aging out of foster care that enable young people to develop communication and interpersonal skills.
